

Highfield is a global leader in compliance, work-based learning, accredited qualifications, and apprenticeship training. Recognised as one of the UK's most respected awarding organisations, Highfield is regulated by Ofqual, Qualifications Wales, Qualifications Scotland Accreditation, the Council for the Curriculum, Examinations and Assessment (CCEA), and the Security Industry Authority (SIA).

In addition to its role as an awarding organisation, Highfield is a government-regulated apprentice assessment organisation and has been recognised with prestigious accolades, including the 2024 Chamber Large Business of the Year Award and the 2024 King's Award for Enterprise.

Highfield has developed more than 600 internationally recognised qualifications designed to enhance learners' career prospects and support workforce development across multiple industries. Today, over 56,000 approved trainers and training providers deliver Highfield qualifications in more than 100 countries worldwide, with over 550,000 certificates awarded annually.

Highfield qualifications and training programmes support a wide range of sectors, including retail, health and social care, finance, customer service, rail and engineering, hospitality, logistics, aviation, and many others.

WHY HIGHFIELD?

Highfield has become one of the UK's top five awarding organisations in less than a decade by focusing on quality, innovation, and customer satisfaction. Key benefits include:

- Outstanding customer service and responsive support
- Dedicated account management
- Award-winning learning resources and training materials
- Tablet-based e-assessment options
- Regular global Continuing Professional Development (CPD) webinars
- Fast and efficient customer response through its three-ring call policy
- Complimentary e-certification
- Comprehensive end-point assessment services
- Flexible blended-learning solutions
- Excellent value without compromising quality
- Online certificate verification through Checkcert

At the heart of Highfield's success are its core values of Quality, Value, Service, and Integrity, which guide every qualification, service, and partnership worldwide.

INFO@HIGHFIELD.CO.UK
HIGHFIELDQUALIFICATIONS.COM